

URL: http://www.tcpalm.com/tcp/jc_local_news/article/0,2545,TCP_1114_3421637,00.html

By Kit Bradshaw
staff writer
December 26, 2004

Jupiter firm launches $180 million project

Seven Kings Holdings, Inc. of Jupiter has launched a $180 million Riviera Beach marina project, to be called the Loggerhead Club and Marina, a full service marina facility.

This is the second marina facility to be announced under the Loggerhead Club and Marina flag. Formerly known as the Inlet Harbor Marina, Loggerhead Club and Marina is located on Blue Heron Boulevard just west of Phil Foster Park. The marina is an anchor to the $180 million waterfront marina, restaurant and 351 unit, twin-tower luxury residential project jointly developed by Seven Kings Holdings, Inc. and Swerdlow/Boca Developers development team.

Seven Kings Holdings, Inc. is the owner and operator of nine major South Florida marina projects that are being rolled out under the Loggerhead Club and Marina flag. The former Marineline Center of Juno Beach recently received a donation from Loggerhead Club and Marina and has changed its name to Loggerhead Marineline Center. The center is getting ready to break ground on a new sea turtle rescue and research facility in Loggerhead Park in Juno Beach.

For more information about Loggerhead Club and Marina, log onto www.skholdings.com.

Subscribe to The News, Tribune or Press Journal: PRE-PAY and Receive a FREE GIFT

Copyright 2004, Scripps Treasure Coast Publishing Co.
Click for permission to reprint

Copyright 2004, TCPalm. All Rights Reserved.